Executive Summary

IG1228 provides an overview and structured inventory of ODA use cases that illustrate ODA Functional Architecture principles, component scope, and interactions using TM Forum Open APIs. This version continues the evolution toward a federated publication model in which use cases are published as standalone artifacts using the TMFS000 template, each with its own identity and lifecycle. The mapping of use cases to ODA components—previously maintained in IG1214—is now incorporated into IG1228, and IG1214 will no longer be maintained. This release introduces initial alignment to updated ODA Core Commerce ordering components, reflected in updates to TMFS008 and TMFS018, enhances TMFS028 with use case and sequence diagrams, adds the new TMFS031 Problem Management use case, an extension to TMFS019 as a Part II, and includes a note outlining the impact of component changes and the phased alignment of remaining use cases.

Introduction

This version of the document is a transition from publishing IG1228 with all use cases embedded as part of one document to separating the use cases out to individual documents with their own identity, version control, and moved to the new template TMFS000. In addition, the mapping of use cases to ODA Components that have up until now been published as IG1214 is incorporated into this document. IG1214 will no longer be maintained moving forward. A first subset of use cases has for this version been moved to the new template and will be published standalone. In subsequent versions, the remaining use cases will be transferred to the new template and published. Until the transition is complete, they will be found in IG1228 document, v14.0.0. See List of Use Cases for details on what use case has moved and remains.

This document aims to provide an introduction and to be an inventory of a series of use cases that permits to illustrate ODA Functional Architecture principles and ODA components scope, behavior and interactions using TMF Open APIs. Besides the inventory of use cases, this document also provides an overview of what ODA components are covered by the use cases.

The purpose of the use cases can be to describe and illustrate a business need, to solve a business problem, to clarify boundaries and interactions between specified ODA components, or to identify and propose new ODA components.

Any TMF member or TMF workgroup can describe ODA Use Cases and propose to include them in this document. Here are high level steps on how to get started:

- Document the use case idea in a presentation and present it to the workstream for approval and guidance.
- As the idea is approved, a use case number will be assigned, and it will be included in the IG1228 as a planned use case.

1. List of Use Cases

In this version of the IG1228 document the new use case template is applied to a subset of already published use cases and more will be adapted in next versions.

The use cases that are yet not moved to the new template and made standalone, can be found in the older IG1228 document version 14.0.0.

Note

Recent updates to ODA Core Commerce ordering components (TMFC002, TMFC003, TMFC027) introduce important changes to pre-order qualification, Product Order ownership, and orchestration responsibilities, impacting several E2E ordering-related use cases in IG1228.

Given the scope of these changes, updates are being applied incrementally. TMFS008 and TMFS018 have been aligned in this release, while the remaining impacted use cases have been identified and will be updated in subsequent revisions.

In the interim, some use cases may reflect earlier interaction patterns and will be progressively aligned to ensure consistent application of pre-order qualification (TMFC027), Product Order ownership (TMFC003), and component responsibilities.

The following is the list of impacted use cases:

Use Case	Title	Impact Reason
TMFS002	Browse B2C catalog and check Fiber technical eligibility	Technical qualification now owned by TMFC027
TMFS003	Order Capture – Fiber contract	Product Order creation no longer in TMFC002
TMFS004	Order Delivery – Fiber contract	Product Order ownership now explicit in TMFC003
TMFS008	Service & resource order mgmt. for postpaid mobile	Clear Product → Service ordering boundary
TMFS010	ODA Flow with NaaS support	Qualification-before-order pattern required
TMFS011	Order Fallout Management	Fallout timing and ownership shift upstream
TMFS014	5G Slice Management	Explicit technical & commercial qualification needed
TMFS016	Prospect to Order for SASE	Strong dependency on pre-order qualification
TMFS018	Wholesale Broadband – Fiber Access	Explicitly cited need for combined feasibility
TMFS021	Orchestration of multi-party, multi-domain sales order	B2B2X Product Order

The following use cases may require minor updates or clarifications if they reference ordering or qualification assumptions:

- TMFS012 – Product Catalog: Launching a new Product Offering
- TMFS019 – Partner Onboarding with Agreement Management
- TMFS020 – Multi-Domain B2B2X Contract Management

2. Components identified per use-case

This mapping is based on IG1242 ODA Component Inventory v23.0.0 Only components associated to an identifier, or illustrated in at least one use case, are presented here.

The last group of components in the table "New components to validate" correspond to components proposed and illustrated in IG1228 use case but not yet agreed with the ODA Components team or included in the ODA Component Inventory.

Note: TMFC019 Event Management ODA component initially specified has been moved to an ODA Canvas function since IG1242 v12.0. So, it doesn't appear anymore in the table below, but event management is still illustrated in many use cases with an Event broker or Event Management technical function.
